Understanding Competition Law: Perspectives from Asian

The School of Legal Studies, CUSAT, has been successfully organizing Summer School on various topics of legal and social significance in contemporary times. Following the successful completion of the 'First & Second Annual Summer School on Consumer and Competition Law' held in June 2018 & June 2019, the School of Legal Studies is organizing its Third Annual International Summer School on, 'Understanding Competition Law: Perspectives from Asian Countries'. This year, however, the summer school will be held virtually due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

About the School of Legal Studies

About the Summer School

Globalization, liberalization and the development of market-systems in India have on one hand improved the quality of life of individuals and on the other hand have brought stiff competition among the different market-players and stakeholders to the forefront. The unhealthy competition often leads to the adoption of anti-competitive practices and thereby causes exploitation of the consumers. Various countries have adopted competition law/antitrust law/antimonopoly laws to deal with the anti-competitive practices in the market. These legislations address the issue of effective competition in the market and seek to curb anti-competitive practices with a view to promote effective competition in the market and maximization of consumer welfare. Since Competition Law is an emerging subject, this
