"Statutes, Issues, and Amendments: The Way Forward"

Tuesday, 21st December 2021

|

3:00 PM (IST) Onwards

The Constitution of India is the supreme law that lays down fundamental principles, procedures, practices, rights, powers, and duties of the government and applies to all entities equally in India. There is an extensive list of Corporate and Commercial laws which includes contract law, company law, insolvency and bankruptcy laws, consumer protection law, property laws, intellectual property laws, and arbitration law. Also, there are the provisions under various articles of constitutional law which interface with commercial laws and their applicability becomes more impactful if taken together over their independent applications.

There are a variety of challenges being faced by the corporate and stakeholders in India while incorporating the constitutional values in commercial laws without altering the proposed objective of the statute. It is of pertinence to understand the issues and challenges behind such combination of active constitutional provisions interfacing with commercial laws.

To discuss and address the issues, opportunities, and the way forward for bringing out more solidarity to the legal enactments and ensuring compliances with the constitutional and commercial laws as well as the regulatory reforms, the ASSOCHAM is organizing under Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav the National Conference on "Constitutional Law Interfacing with Commercial Laws" on Tuesday, 21st December 2021 from 3:00 PM (IST) onwards.
