JURISPRUDENCE II

SEMESTER VI | B.A.LL.B. (Hons.)

SYLLABUS (SESSION: JANUARY 2024 -MAY 2024)

Faculty Name	Dr. Kaumudhi Challa Dr. Mohammad Atif Khan	Year/ Semester	3/VI
Course Name	Jurisprudence II	No. of Credits	4
Course Code	NA	Session Duration	1 Hour
No of Contact Hours	60 hours	Pre-requisite	Understanding of Law, Jurisprudence Schools and Legal Theories
Introduction, Course Objective & Pedagogy	Law is considered not merely as a trade to be learnt, but as an intellectual pursuit which is to be understood, questioned, criticized and applied in a pragmatic manner. In this context, the study of jurisprudence is of utmost importance for a good lawyer because it helps to develop an understanding of law, improves the questioning ability and the capacity to think independently. While the paper of Jurisprudence I explains the meaning and nature of law with the help of various legal theories and approach of Jurists; the paper of Jurisprudence II deals with the various legal concepts which are most fundamental and central to any legal system. The objective of this course of Jurisprudence II is to introduce the important legal concepts such as Person, Right, Ownership, Possession, Property, Liability etc. These concepts are not only common to all systems of law but are also significant and challenging with respect to their meaning and application in any legal system. Hence, a discussion of the meaning and various approaches with respect to these concepts would help the students or budding lawyers to think critically and creatively about law and legal concepts and its practical application in present times. This course also deals with certain central issues like custom, legislation, and judicial precedents in order to acquaint the students with the nature and sources of law, and their significance and role in contemporary society.

	Thus, the main objective of this course, jurisprudence II is to decode the complexities of law through developing an understanding of: CO1- the various legal concepts such as Person, Right, Ownership, Possession, Duty etc.; CO2 – sources of law like customs, legislations, judicial precedents; CO3- the nuances of legal pronouncement through ratio decidendi and obiter dicta; CO4- dimensional relationship between right and duty CO5- the relationship between property, right, possession and ownership together to resolve pragmatically the issues in society This subject requires teaching to be a combination of theoretical foundation with practical application. The contact hours will be utilized in catering a blend of instruction, discussion, and brainstorming sessions. The students will be encouraged to participate in classes via discussions, debates and assignments etc..

LEARNING OUTCOMES: Through the curriculum, the students will be introduced to the major notion in jurisprudence II which will enables students to:

LO1- Identify conceptual issues related to right, duty, property, ownership and possession

LO2 – understand the complex interrelationship of such concepts and their practical applications

LO3 – Navigate and balance the often arising debates between such relationships of right-duty, Obligation-Liability, different kinds of duties and right and ownership and possession. LO4- know the proper meaning and application of terms like rights and duties; person; ownership and possession; and understand their implication in the legal scenario

LO5 – Develop basic perception around the key concepts connecting their usage in all the subjects.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION
SEMESTER VI | B.A. LL.B. (Hons.)
SYLLABUS (SESSION January-June)

Faculty	Prof (Dr) Vishnu K and Mr Surya Vadapalli	Year/Sem.	Sem. VI
Course Name	Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)	Session Duration	1 Hour
Total no. of hours	60 hours	Pre-requisite	Prior reading and basic understanding of law

About the Course:

Disputes are a part of human association. Legally speaking, when one person makes a claim against the other based on a certain law or legal principle, and the other person denies the claim, there is a dispute. The term Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) refers to a range of methods and processes of dispute resolution. Significantly, these methods are very rapidly transforming from mere 'alternatives' into preferred methods of resolving disputes. The promise of ADR methods is low cost, fast resolution and an outcome acceptable to both parties. Unfortunately, due to improper or ineffective use these methods often fail to deliver on these promises.

In order to know about the various methods of ADR, a deeper understanding of the skills and techniques being adopted is very pertinent. Despite the cultural barriers and jurisdictional differences, often the strategies including choice of parties, communication skills, client counseling, negotiation standards and settlement formula play an important role in determining the success of any ADR mechanism. Hence this course precisely covers all ADR techniques.

Course Objectives:

The main course objectives may be pin-pointed as follows:

- Understand the backdrop, meaning, advantages and disadvantages of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) mechanisms.
- Understand the key differences between Alternative Dispute Resolution mechanisms and Judicial Adjudication.
- Understand the skills and elements involved in Negotiation, Mediation, Conciliation and Arbitration.
- Understand the process of dispute resolution through ADR mechanisms, in particular, under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996.
- Exposure to the training and skills required for the practice of different types of ADR methods.

- Critical assessment of strategies and formulae in adopting the right ADR process for the parties while respecting their choice of forum.

Pedagogy:

The Course will be taught in both lecture and practical mode. Apart from classroom lectures special focus would be given to practical sessions, covering various skill development exercises, training sessions on developing those special skills in practicing various ADR methods and layering/counseling techniques to match the requirement of any given form of ADR. A special emphasis will be given to relevant Case Law analysis and discussion on both domestic and international aspects.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

After the successful completion of course students will be able to:

- 1) Demonstrate the idea of various forms of ADR.
- 2) Analyse a conflict situation and to select the appropriate dispute resolution method.
- 3) The ability to apply problem-solving techniques, including: identification of core issues from a set of facts; thinking laterally and innovatively in order to find effective solutions to those issues.
- 4) An ability to situate dispute resolution processes in their wider social, political and theoretical contexts.

Faculty	Ms. Garima Panwar	Year/ Term	3 rd Year / VI semester
Course Name	Intellectual Property Rights	Each Session Duration	1 Hour
No of Classes/Week	05	No. of Credits	04
No of Contact Hours	60
Introduction, Course Objective & Pedagogy	Intellectual Property Rights in general refers to the set of intangible assets including invention, creation, and contribution to the contemporaneous field of knowledge which is owned and legally protected by an individual or company. The economic growth, financial incentive and motivation for advanced innovations imbedded in the balanced legal protection of Intellectual Property Rights entails proficient, directed and timely updated guidance in the field of Intellectual Property Rights. Intellectual property has increasingly assumed a vital role with the rapid pace of technological, scientific and medical innovation that we are witnessing today. Moreover, changes in the global economic environment have influenced the development of business models where intellectual property is a central element establishing value and potential growth. In India several new legislations for the protection of intellectual property rights (IPRs) have been passed to meet the international obligations under the WTO Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS). Intellectual property has therefore grown into one of the world's biggest and fastest-growing fields of law thereby necessitating the demand for IP professionals well versed in this area to deal with (IPRs) across the national and international borders. Therefore, this

	syllabus has been prepared to provide the students with a wide perspective and in-depth knowledge in intellectual property to enable them to get solid grounding in the legislative framework, practice and procedure of the intellectual property protected through patents, trademarks, copyrights, designs and geographical indications. The course contents have been designed so as to develop specialized skills in the corpus and complexities of the different aspects of the subject besides meeting the requirements of a future career in this area. COURSE OBJECTIVES: CO1: To introduce the students to the various types of Intellectual Property i.e., Copyright, Patent, Trademark, Design and so on. CO2: To familiarize the students with the procedure of filing of patents, trademark in India and abroad. CO3: To develop a broad understanding of the Intellectual Property and specific remedies available for infringement of Intellectual Property; and, CO4: To enable the students to critically appreciate the emerging issues in Intellectual Property Law. PEDAGOGY: The teaching methods will include Lectures, PowerPoint Presentations, documentaries, discussion and debate on various topics under the Intellectual Property Law and related emerging issues.

PUBLIC POLICY PROCESS (PPP) (MAJORS PAPER)
SEMESTER VI | B.A. LL.B. (HONS)
SESSION JAN-JUNE

Faculty Name	Mr. Aashutosh Kumar Aahire	Year/ Semester	3/VI
Course Name	Public Policy Process	No. of Credits	4
Course Code	Not Available	Session Duration	1 Hour
No of Contact Hours	60 hours	Pre-requisites	Understanding of functioning of Political Systems and Law-Making Process in India and abroad

Course Outline:

Public policy and governance are closely related to each other. As the key instrument of governance, public policy affects each and every aspect of our life from the cradle to the grave. Therefore, an understanding of the processes by which public policy is actually made and the institutions and actors which play a role in this process is vital for informed citizens and for all of us interested in improving the quality of governance and promoting 'good governance'. It not only offers useful insights into 'why' and 'how' policies are formulated and implemented, and 'succeed' or 'fail', but also offers strategic choices and options necessary for coalition/support building for appropriate and effective policy formulation and implementation. This may ultimately lead to ensuring good governance.

This course on Public Policy essentially aims at familiarizing the students with the complexities of governance and policy processes. Outlining the meaning, nature, scope and significance of public policy, it examines various approaches to and models of studying public policy. The course equips the students with the public policy-making processes including the institutions and actors involved in policy formulation and implementation and the dynamics that influence policy formulation. Discussing policy implementation in the context of various theories of organization, it highlights the role of bureaucracy and other actors in policy implementation. Further, the focus on challenges of policy implementation provides the students with the knowledge of how socio-economic and political forces like, caste, class, community, power structure, politician-bureaucratic nexus, etc. impinge on and influence policy implementation. Finally, it tries to acquaint the students with the process of policy evaluation and policy analysis.

Objectives:

- C01: To give an insight into the complex nature of policy processes and its significance from the perspective of improving the quality of governance and ensuring good governance;
- C02: To acquaint students with the key concepts and theoretical frameworks for understanding and analyzing the policy making process;
- C03: To provide an overview of the actors and institutions which play critical roles in the policy formulation as well as policy implementation;
- C04: To introduce the students to the theories of organization in general and the theory of bureaucracy in particular and the role it plays in policy implementation;
- C05: To acquaint the students with the constraints and challenges of policy implementation and show how socio-economic and political forces like, caste, class, community, power structure, politician-bureaucratic nexus, etc. impinge on and influence policy implementation; and
- C06: To acquaint the students with the concept and practice of policy evaluation and policy analysis which constitutes important stages in the policy process.

Pedagogy:

- The course will be taught with theoretical foundations delivered through lectures, supplemented by essential readings from textbooks, scholarly articles, and policy reports.
- Diverse case studies would be discussed to understand the complexities and nuances of policy analysis, formulation, implementation, and evaluation.
- Critical thinking would be encouraged through group discussions, debates, and role-playing exercises centered around policy issues, allowing students to present their views from various perspectives.

Learning Outcomes:

On successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- L01: Understand the concept and practice of public policy and its interconnection with governance;
- L02: Learn the key concepts and theoretical approaches to the study and understanding of public policy and apply them to understand and analyse public policies in the real world situation;
- L03: Understand the role played by various actors and institutions in the making of public policies and the complexities of their interactions in the policy process;

- L04: Develop critical thinking capacity about public policy process and can carry out independent research and policy analysis on major issues affecting our society, economy and the polity;
- L05: Critically engage in debates, discussion, analysis and evaluation of public policies and programs;
- L06: Express their ideas thoughtfully and confidently; and Produce scientific solutions to the problems affecting the society and economy.
